<Sample>

I was raised in USA I never had the environment to learn the language of my own cultural. I am hoping I can have the opportunity to study and live in Japan. I love the experiences to exchange cultural differences by living and working in a different country. I am currently studying Japanese on my own in York without too much progress due to the lack of real life practice. I was interested in Japan since I was a high school student. Culture and beauty of Japan and I have always dreamed of going since then. My purpose of studying Japanese in Japan is to learn the language while living in an amazing country, immersing myself in the culture and beauty, see Japan while I study and to have my biggest dream/wish come true. I graduate from the university, so if I have a chance I would like to work in Japan.
